1a. Personal details
Title (optional)	Dr
First Name(s)	Victoria Jane
Family Name	King
Present position	Researcher
Organisation/Employer	The University of Auckland
Contact Address	85 Park Road, Grafton, Auckland, 1023
Mobile	+64 274305999
Email	v.king@auckland.ac.nz
Research identifier	ORCID: 0000-0002-4327-5632

1b. Academic qualifications
2024	PhD	Physiology	University of Auckland
2018	MSc (First Class)	Physiology	University of Auckland
2016	PGDipSci (Merit)	Physiology	University of Auckland
2012	BSc	Pharmacology & Physiology	University of Auckland

1c. Professional positions held
2023-present	Post-doctoral researcher	Physiology	University of Auckland
2022-present	Research Data Specialist	Paediatrics	University of Auckland
2019-23	PhD student	Physiology	University of Auckland
2017-present	Graduate Teaching Assistant	Physiology	University of Auckland
2017-18	Research Assistant	Obstetrics	University of Auckland
2015-17	Research Assistant	Anaesthesiology	University of Auckland

1d. Present research/professional speciality
My research interests are in the area of fetal and neonatal physiology. My current research focus is on how fetuses grow and develop under conditions of impaired placental development leading to late onset fetal growth restriction (FGR). My studies examine the physiological development of FGR fetuses in utero, to determine impacts on fetal behaviour, neurophysiology, and fetal and maternal cardiovascular function. My studies also examine whether there are changes in fetal or maternal physiology that can be used to determine fetuses at risk of dying in utero, with a particular focus on circadian changes in cardiovascular function.

1f. Professional distinctions and memberships (including honours, prizes, grants, scholarships, boards, editorial and/or governance roles, etc.)

Awards and Prizes

2021	Award: King VJ, Lear BA, Dhillon SK, Beacom M. Uniservices and The Centre of Innovation and Entrepreneurship (University of Auckland) Velocity Innovation Challenge (social category) winners, for the innovation idea "LIME" (Live In-Utero Maternal-Fetal Electrocardiogram), a portable long-term heart rate recordings for pregnancy monitoring and management. May 2021.
2021	Award: Diversity Scholar. RStudio::global. This prize is awarded to outstanding members of underrepresented groups at the annual RStudio conference.
2020	Award: JD Sinclair award, Department of Physiology, University of Auckland. This prize is awarded annually to a successful Masters student undertaking a PhD in Physiology.
2020	Prize: Best PhD oral presentation, Australasian Chronobiology Society.
2020	Prize: Research Excellence outstanding abstract, Australasian Chronobiology Society.

2019-23 Scholarship: University of Auckland Doctoral Scholarship
2019 Prize: Tania Gunn best PhD oral presentation. Fetal and Neonatal Physiological Society.
2019 Prize: Best Early-Stage PhD Oral Presentation, Fetal and Neonatal Workshop.
2018 Prize: Best Junior Researcher Presentation, Fetal and Neonatal Workshop.
2017 Prize: Best Honours/Masters oral presentation, Australasian Chronobiology Society.
2017 Prize: Research Excellence outstanding abstract, Australasian Chronobiology Society.
2017 Prize: Wallath Prize (Biomedical), Best Summer Research Scholarship, University of Auckland.
2016-17 Scholarship: Summer Research Scholarship programme, University of Auckland.

Professional activity

2024- Member: working group on the formation of the NZ Chronobiology Research Network; with A/P Guy Warman, Dr James Cheeseman, Prof Laura Bennet, Dr Nicola Ludin and others
2024- Member: Public Health Association of Australia
2023- Member: Manaaki Manawa outreach and education programme, Manaaki Manawa, University of Auckland
2023 Member: Conference Organiser Sub-committee, Fetal and Neonatal Physiological Society Annual Meeting, Queenstown, New Zealand, September 2023
2022-23 Representative: Faculty of Medical and Health Sciences Post-graduate Student Association; student representative on the FMHS Education Committee, Faculty of Medical and Health Sciences, University of Auckland
2021- Journal reviewer
2020- Member: Newborn Brain Society (USA)
2019- Member: R-Ladies Auckland, a local chapter of R-Ladies Global, R-Ladies Auckland exists to promote diversity in the R programming language community, with hui/meetups for mentoring and skill development
2019 Workshop lead: Research Bazaar, University of Auckland. Introduction to R, Research Bazaar, Auckland, New Zealand, July 2019. I was invited by the Centre for eResearch to produce and lead a half-day practical interactive workshop teaching R statistical programming at the AKL Research Bazaar, a local chapter of a global initiative to promote digital literacy in modern research
2018- Member: Manawa Mai Department of Physiology Team Courses and Careers Public Open Day, Faculty of Medical and Health Sciences, University of Auckland.
2017 Chair: HealthX Postgraduate Student Conference, Faculty of Medical and Health Sciences, University of Auckland.
2015-16 Member: Meet-a-scientist volunteer, LENSscience outreach programme, Liggins Institute, University of Auckland.

Research society memberships

2020- Member: Newborn Brain Society (USA)
2019- Member: RLadies Auckland
2019- Member: Fetal and Neonatal Physiological Society
2018- Member: Women in HealthTech, New Zealand
2017- Member: Australasian Chronobiology Society
2017- Member: Physiological Society of New Zealand

Invited talks and workshops:

- 2025 King VJ. "Preclinical modelling of late-onset FGR". Neonatal Unit Physician's Grand Round, Middlemore Hospital, Auckland, New Zealand. Invited talk, 20 March 2025
- 2025 King VJ. "Large data analytics in the study of measles severity and sequelae". FMHS Health Data and Biostatistics Seminar, Faculty of Medical and Health Sciences, University of Auckland. Invited faculty talk, 11 March 2025.
- 2022 King VJ. "From me to team: learning to code collaboratively". R-Ladies Auckland, Auckland, New Zealand, 13 April 2022. Invited talk and discussion at hui with women in academic and industry roles using R statistical programming language.
- 2020 King VJ. "I dream of gg(plot2): visualising sleep in pregnancy with R". SatRdays, Auckland, New Zealand, 22 February 2020. Invited talk at the inaugural New Zealand SatRdays conference for users of R statistical programming language. Registration and meals paid.
- 2019 King VJ. "Introduction to R". Research Bazaar, Auckland, New Zealand, 10-12 July 2019. Invited by the Centre for eResearch committee for Research Bazaar AKL (a local chapter of the worldwide Research Bazaar group promoting digital literacy in modern research) to produce and lead a half-day practical interactive workshop teaching R statistical programming.
